Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, It has been exactly one half of a century since the class of 1933 received its diplomas, and a good many things have changed since those teenage days; and,

WHEREAS, Back then, the country was in the grips of a depression, and students amused themselves with jigsaw puzzles, contract bridge, and crossword puzzles. When the budget included a movie, the favorites included "Big Broadcase," "Grand Hotel," and "Farewell to Arms"; and,

WHEREAS, Despite the lean economic times, WHS athletes were able to put plenty of muscle in the school's win columns. The Warrior football players lost only one game that year, and the basketball team was in the state finals; and,

WHEREAS, Since there was no television, WHS seniors enjoyed many hours of entertainment with the more imaginative medium of radio. Their favorite stars were Eddie Cantor, Ed Wynn, Jack Pearl, and Gracie Allen. In music, the stars were Guy Lombardo, Wayne King, Ben Bernie, and Isham Jones playing songs like "Pink Elephants," "My Darling," and "Linger a Little Longer"; and,

WHEREAS, In those days, the girls were wearing berets and postage-stamp hats while the guys had autographed chamois jackets; and,

WHEREAS, Despite all these changes, some things remain the same: The school colors are still Orange and Black, Washington High School is still intact (who would have believed it?), and in our memories, we are still 18-year-old school kids wondering what our lives will be like in fifty years; and,

WHEREAS, To the class of 1933, the fiftieth of one hundred classes to graduate from Sioux Falls/Washington High: May these festivities be memorable and enjoyable enough to bring you back again in 1993:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAN J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim June 16-18, 1983, as

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1933 DAYS

In South Dakota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Fifteenth Day of June, In the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Three
